About Raj Group

Established in 1942, the first entity of Raj Group was a petroleum specialties trading outfit, with a strength of less than five. From this modest beginning six decades ago, the group has evolved into a multi-product and multi-facility conglomerate. Today, it is a leading manufacturer and supplier of a diverse range of petroleum specialty products.

Raj Group today is an eminent Indian Business House having diversified interests ranging from process oils and lubricants to performance chemicals and international trading, as also hospitality and diagnostic services.

Over the past 60 years, Raj Group has consistently made efforts to be world class in every sphere of its business activity. Today, the Group has a dynamic global sourcing network, a comprehensive range of products, state-of-the-art ISO 9001:2008 manufacturing facilities, a dedicated Research & Development outfit to support its present and future innovative needs, and a proactive marketing team servicing a very large number of satisfied customers in India and all continents across the globe.
